Leonardo Planar loudspeaker ($65k)

Certainly the most powerful planar-magnetic loudspeakers I've ever heard coupled with a bass output that rivals the best box enclosures regardless of price or prestige. Its high sensitivity rating of 93 dB makes it a perfect match for tubes. However, unless you're driving 600-watt tubes, I found these Italian marvels to sound their absolute best when driven by solid state devices. One of the most amazing and dynamic loudspeakers I have heard in a very long time. [CP]
